An Insight into June 2012 UK Retail Durable Sectors

www.gfkrt.com/uk

- June saw the total durables market decline -3.4% compared to the same month last year. The quarterly view showed a more pronounced fall of -7.2% compared to the second quarter last year, bringing the year to date decline to -6%.
- Poor weather continued to have an impact on the DIY/gardening sector, which declined -9.2% month on month. Meanwhile in the consumer electronics sector, the European football and run up to the Olympics have lessened the decline in some areas. However, the effect has not been as positive as expected, with the sector still declining -9.2% overall compared to June last year.
- As the run up to the Olympics and Paralympics continues, there are opportunities for some retailers to improve trading as, thanks to a relaxation in Sunday trading laws, larger shops will be able to open for longer.

How are Online Sales Performing Month on Month?

Month on Month % Growth in Online Sales
(this month versus the same month last year)

How Has the Total Durables Market Performed?

Month on Month % Growth in Total Market Value
(this month versus the same month last year)

How Has the Consumer Electronics Sector Performed?

Month on Month % Growth in Sector Value
(this month versus the same month last year)

The continuing economic uncertainty and lack of consumer confidence continue to inhibit sales in the consumer electronics sector. European football and the run up to the Olympics have certainly helped some areas (leading to a lessening of the overall decline). However, the uplifts have not been as substantial as may have been hoped, and we still see continued decline on the same months last year.

How Has the IT Sector Performed?

Month on Month % Growth in Sector Value
(this month versus the same month last year)

In the IT sector, web books are key to driving growth as ownership levels remain well below traditional mobile computers. Combining web books and mobile computers, web books account for 42% of the value compared to 20% in June last year.

How Has the Photo Sector Performed?

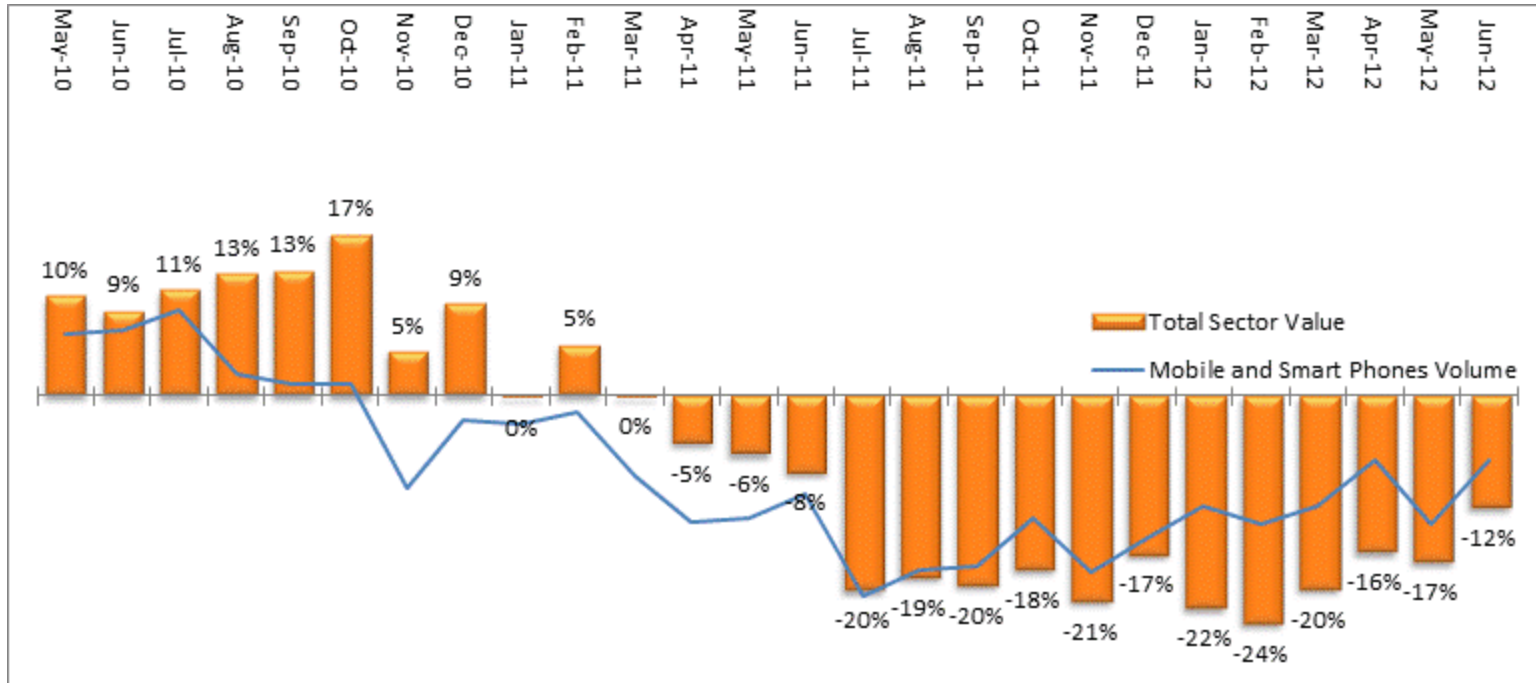

Month on Month % Growth in Sector Value
(this month versus the same month last year)

The average price of a digital camera has increased by 10% between June 2011 and June 2012 as a result of more highly featured models on the market. However, a fall in volume has meant that the value attributable to the product category has declined -5% month on month.

How Has the Telecommunications Sector Performed?

Month on Month % Growth in Sector Value
(this month versus the same month last year)

The prepay segment of the market continues to drive the overall decline in the telecommunications sector. However, year on year value is boosted by the continued growth of mobile accessories, particularly in the protection category as smart phones continue to penetrate the market. This point is further reinforced by an increase in smart phone sales due to handset launches.

How Has the Major Domestic Appliances Sector Performed?

Month on Month % Growth in Sector Value
(this month versus the same month last year)

Poor June weather translates into a successful month for tumble dryers, where the value attributable grows 13% compared to June last year. Washing machines perform even better, up 14% month on month.

How Has the Small Domestic Appliances Sector Performed?

Month on Month % Growth in Sector Value
(this month versus the same month last year)

Vacuum cleaners drive most growth for the small domestic appliances sector in June, up 7% month on month. In the personal care segment, the news is not as positive with shavers and hair clippers declining -6% and -4% respectively on June last year.

How Has the Office Sector Performed?

Month on Month % Growth in Sector Value
(this month versus the same month last year)

Several of the stationery product categories are driving growth in the office sector – ball point pens and writing felt pens are up 14% and 15% respectively month on month. The printer consumables segment also grows, with laser and inkjet cartridges up 10% and 2% respectively on June last year.

How Has the DIY/Gardening Sector Performed?

Month on Month % Growth in Sector Value
(this month versus the same month last year)

The wet weather has had a major impact on the DIY/gardening sector, with not only garden and outdoor categories declining compared to last year, but also key indoor sectors affected by economic strain.

How Has the Automotive Sector Performed?

Month on Month % Growth in Sector Value
(this month versus the same month last year)

While vehicle engine oils remained virtually flat, the sector suffered due to declines across many of the car care product categories, and also engine and petrol additives, which fell -21% on June last year.
